A Statement from the Members of Wiesenfeuer

You may have heard about us from a friend, found us on a web search, saw our displays and demos at the Norman Medieval Fair or any number of local events or schools. Regardless of how you've found us, we're glad you did. The Barony of Wiesenfeuer is part of an organization called the Society for Creative Anachronism (SCA). It's an international organization dedicated to the researching and recreating the arts and skills of pre-17th century Europe. The "arts and skills" of Europe, and any people that Europeans had contact with, are far reaching in scope and depth. Arts include everything from making soap or butter, to making of instruments, woodworking, ... the list goes on. Anything that was made or done in the Middle Ages or Renaissance is fair game. Skills would include fighting, fencing, archery, thrown weapons, and all manner of games and talents played and practiced in six hundred years of history.

The SCA is a hands-on participation based way to learn about history. Hit your (armored) friends with rattan sticks, fence like a musketeer or pirate, or learn to shoot a bow like Robin Hood. Learn any number of arts and crafts from people that have developed skills and techniques for making and doing things the way they were centuries ago.

Beyond the competitions and projects, the royalty and ceremonies, the SCA is all about having fun. The Society is a great place to meet people with similar interests, make new friends, and be involved. So come out to an event, go to a meeting, or contact our hospitler at http://wiesenfeuer.ansteorra.org.

Welcome to Wiesenfeuer!!

Message from the Baronesses

This month we have Gulf Wars and various other events coming. We hope to see everyone at the events and hope everyone has an Awesome time at Gulf Wars. Stay Awesome Wiesenfeuer!

Beannachdan

Hail agus slàinte chothromach don Barony as motha! Tha thu uile uabhasach math. Leig leis na trompaidean agus na briathran sgaoileadh an fhacal a tha Cogadh oirnn. Fiù 's an-diugh tha mòran de na saighdearan, luchd-ciùird agus luchd-obrach uabhasach againn a' dèanamh planaichean airson siubhal gu Cogaidhean a 'Chamais gus sabaid a thoirt do dhaoine a bhiodh a' toirt dùbhlan dhuinn. Tha sinn uabhasach math, mar sin bidh sinn a 'toirt buaidh air na tha sinn a' dèanamh.

Tha tachartas mòr-chràbhach eile fhathast aig na planaichean againn. Leigibh a-mach gu na fèin-dhreuchdan mòra againn airson ceàrnaidhean far am faod thu cuideachadh agus an tachartas a dhèanamh fiù's uabhasach. Leis a 'mhì-fhortanach seo tha mi ag innse gu bheil an ùine agam cho neo-àbhaisteach a' fàs goirid. Tha e air a bhith uamhasach a bhith nad sheasamh, ach a-nis is e an t-àm a th 'ann tòiseachadh air a bhith a' lorg neach uabhasach eile airson na dleastanasan sin a ghabhail os làimh. Ma tha ùidh agad, cuir a-steach iarrtas gu Northern Regional Seneschal, Rìoghachd Seneschal, mi fhìn, agus cuir a-steach lethbhreac cùirteachaidh dha na Baroness uabhasach. Cuimhnich gun cuir thu a-steach lethbhreac den ID agus ballrachd agad.

Gabh a-mach agus a bhith uabhasach!

Translation:

Greetings.

Hail and fair health to the greatest Barony! You all are awesome. Let the trumpets and heralds spread the word that War is upon us. Even now many of our awesome fighters, artisans, and workers make plans to travel to Gulf Wars to fight those that would dare challenge us. We are awesome, therefore we will triumph in all that we do.

Our plans continue to have yet another awesome Baronial event. Please reach out to our great autocrats for areas where you can help and make the event even more awesome.

With this missive I announce that my time as seneschal grows short. It has been awesome being your seneschal, but now is the time to begin the process of finding another awesome person to take over those duties. If you are interested, please send an application to the Northern Regional Seneschal, Kingdom Seneschal, myself, and include a courtesy copy to the awesome Baronesses. Please remember to include a copy of your ID and membership.

Go forth and be Awesome!

Larll Owen ap Aeddan

Message from the Archery Marshal:

The Scrolls of Time: Chapter 3

This is the third in a series of translations ofo the lost scrolls of "Ian Cara Duinn Cac" as penned by Ramhar Breadoir, ancient chronicler of the scholarly triad of the Harp and Lark drinking establishment. This particular remnant is regarded by many as decidedly controversial and debates rage among the more eccentric academics as to the value of the fragmentary tale. It is commonly accepted that this section depends heavily upon only one of the scholars, an unnamed person regarded in the "Frustro" as a self-important shmuck who regarded the French scholar as a blowhard and is noted for refusing to pay for beverages. This scholar appears to have insisted upon the inclusion of his own interpretations to presumed allegory, which Breadoir has excluded for the sake of translational purity. Notion s that the Unlucky Lands were actually Arkansas, that Tunisians minstrels represent traveling revival preachers and cranbearries represent abnormally high SAT scores, all these can be studied more thoroughly in the monographs.

Chapter Three: The Gaining of the Ladder

Noting the two missing cranberry cakes, Yendel thought of the brauker, of leaving it in plain sight. So Yendel produced a third and placed it in the open floor of his boat. He wrapped himself in his cloak and pre-tended to sleep once again.

Within moments the terrifying yet rather catchy tune of a Tunarian ministrel could be heard, and soon a well dressed and thing-boned Tunarian was standing in the boat, reaching for the cake.

Yendel arose and struck the gangly minstrel in the nose with the tip of his rowing oar. Having never been hit before, the minstrel fell to the bottom of the boat with a cry of pain. Yendel was on him at once, tying his jaw shut with a rag, lashing his hands behind him and admiring the fine buttons on his berry-stained cotehardie.

The Tunarian mewed in fear through his clenched teeth and soiled himself so that the stench drove his airborne kinsmen away from the boat. So the two sat alone, the Tunarian bound and unpleasant, Yendel watching the gathering rain.....

... clouds. When the rains came, they came hard and fast as usual, making the task of bailing the boat a challenge. Once the boat floated on a gray expanse of water, Yendel rowed them for the Cave of Apathy with determination. Thus they came to the first of his trials.

His musical prisoner at his side, Yendel entered the cave boldly. Soon what little light shone in the Unlucky Lands was far behind them, though they didn't much care. Passing beneath the skeletons of bored, staved bats, the ministrel began to mumble about his childhood and his culinary training. His lack of enthusiasm for any activity made his speech dull and monotone, so when the apathy became too much to bear, Yendel would pluck the long heairs that grew from out of the Tunarian's nose. Unfamiliar pain and suffering protected the minstrel from the cave's enchantment more than most, so that he began to use inappropriate adjectives as he rambled about his life, calling his pastry master "splintery and hard on the teeth", his mother he described as "crumbly", his father "sort of a bluish-green powdery fellow", and his tailor "a sticky, talented little ball of navel fuzz". These odd descriptions amused Tendel for hours, and so the two traveled in the darkness unhindered by apathy, passing the snot spiders warrens and over the Yawning Chasm by way of the Crystal Whoopdyfriggindo Bridge until they found themselves above ground.

Behind them was the narrow crevice from which they had emerged. Before them stretched the Path of Patience, It's dusty, gravel-strewn path winding up toward the distant wall of Halthor's Ladder. Satisfied that his plan was well founded in logic, Yendel unbound the Tunarian's jaw, grabbed his bound arms and bade the minstrel to sing. Mayhap the Tunarian understood his captor's intentions. It may be that he hoped to win freedom by cooperating, or he sought to harm his captor with flying. No matter the Tunarian's conclusions, he sang in a stong and unhindered voice and his feet left the ground. Unfortunately, the Tunarian broke. Having fed for eons on swallow tongue muffins and caterpillar larvae mousse, the thingboned Tunarians were well adapted to aerial travel, using vocal vibrations for lift, but they were in no shape to cater to passengers.

So Yendel was faced with a long walk and no company. Staring down at the Tunarian at his feet, he decided one should at least be comfortable and well-dressed while engaging in patience. Besides, it was better to slide down the gravelly path on the borrowed clothes. His patience was tested first on the 55 buttons.
